Habitat

It lives in Queensland, South Australia and the Northern Territory.

Movement

It slithers along the ground because their whole body is made from muscles and it has a flexible spine.

Food

It eats small mammals and native rats.

Breeding

The female will lay from 12 up to even 20 eggs at a time.

Description

The fierce snake has a dark tan body, ranging from a rich, dark colour to a brownish green like our sport shirt, depending on the season. Its tail may be different shades of brown and grey, with many scales having a wide blackish edge.

Other Info

Did you know that the fierce snake can kill up to 500 people in one little bite? It's the world's most venomous snake and it is here in Australia!
